Twenty-five Bandits Slain and Several Soldiers Are Wounded.

GANG IS SURROUNDED AND ALL FACE DEATH

Galveston, Tex., Aug. 3.—Three Americans are known to be dead and several wounded as a result of the fighting with a large band of Mexican bandits in the cactus country Brownsville to-day. Privates Capsaddle and McGuire of the Twelfth Cavalry and a posseman named Robertson were killed

HUERTISTAS CAPTURED.

Expedition Headed for Mexico Taken by U. S. Troops. .

Washington, Aug. 3.--A clash be-tween United States soldiers and Mexican marauders, believed to be identified with one of Carranza's armies, took place above Brownsville, Tex., yesterday, according to advices received at the War Department to-day. These despatches said that two of the Ameri-can troops were wounded. News from unofficial sources states that in the fighting near Brownsville one soldier was killed and two soldiers and two Texas rangers wounded. In the battle twelve of the Mexican bandits were slain.

At the same time the War Department was advised of the capture west of Fort Huachuaca of an expeditionary force to Mexico, supposed to have been organized by sympathizers of Huerta,

The advices concerning the Mexican raiding party were that armed Mexicans crossed the Rio Grande about four miles in robbing and terrorizing citizens. Gov. Ferguson was called on by citizens of Brownsville to ask the War Department for 1,500 additional troops or, failing in that, to send a regiment of the More troops from San Benito have been sent to reenforce Lieut. Lutz, and this morning two additional troops left Brownsville for the scene of the trouble.

Assistant Secretary Breckenridge of the War Department announced to-day that the force at Brownsville was ample to care for the Mexican marauders. The commanding officer at Brownsville has to reassure the people in that district.
